

NEWSERA survey on Citizen Science: privacy notice

The NEWSERA project is launching a survey about science communication strategies as performed by citizen science projects across the EU and the UK. This document presents the information related to data treatment and survey respondents rights on it.

THE SURVEY

The survey (available at <https://bit.ly/2TI3NVw>) is addressed to responsables for citizen science projects based in EU and UK and it includes some general information about the project and about the ways used to communicate and engage with its community. The aim of the survey is to paint a clearer picture of the science communication strategies carried out by citizen science projects and to get in touch with projects to include in the co-creation Labs that will be organized as part of NEWSERA.

RESPONDENT RIGHTS ON DATA

How to withdraw from the project?

You are free to leave the survey at any moment. If you complete and submit the survey, you must know that all personal data are regulated under the GDPR, so you can exercise your rights according to this law. You can request the complete elimination of your data by email at ethics@ibercivis.es.

What will the information be used for?

We will not use personal data for the research. We will require personal or institutional data to keep contact, if you agree to provide us with it.

Retention schedule

Personal Data will be stored until the end of the project: December 2022.

Who is responsible for data processing

Ibervivis is responsible for processing and protecting all personal - and no personal - data obtained. Ibervivis is a non-profit private foundation with NIF: G99330094. It was created on November 14, 2011 in Madrid. Its objectives are to continue with its work of collaboration with citizen research and carry out dissemination and training activities. It has a fiscal address in Campus Río Ebro, R&D Building, C/Mariano Esquillor, s/n, 50018 Zaragoza, Spain. The email address for ethical issues is ethics@ibercivis.es. University of Padova (UNIPD) is also responsible for processing and protecting the survey data. Contact person at UNIPD is the researcher Paolo Giardullo paolo.giardullo@unipd.it.

Personal data transfer

We follow strict security procedures when storing personal data. Under no circumstances we will transfer personal data to third parties outside the NEWSERA Consortium.

Rights and how to exercise them

You have the right to:

- Request information about whether we have personal data about you and, if so, what information we have, why we have it and how we are using it.
- Request access to your personal data. This allows you to receive a copy of your personal data and to correct any incomplete or incorrect information we have about you.
- Request personal data deletion. This allows you to delete or ask us to delete your personal data.
- Request to transfer your personal data to you or to a third party in an electronic and structured format - commonly known as the right to data portability.
- You can exercise any of these rights through the Newsera website or by email writing to ethics@ibercivis.es.
- You will not have to pay any fee to access your personal data - or to exercise any other of your rights.

ABOUT THE PROJECT

NEWSERA is studying citizen science as a new form of science communication that can strengthen the link between science and society. We want to analyse the strategies that CS projects adopt to communicate with different targets (citizen scientists and society, academic scientists, industries, policy makers).

NEWSERA is a project that includes partners from Spain, Italy and Portugal. It's funded by the European Union's Horizon 2020 Research and Innovation program, under Grant Agreement n. 873125. To learn more about the project, visit newsera2020.eu or contact us at info@newsera2020.eu
